

Section 1: Email of Request

You were unable to submit an assignment by the deadline due to unforeseen circumstances. Write an email to your professor requesting permission to submit it a few days late, along with a brief explanation.

Subject: Extension request: [Java Assignment]

Respected Professor Jindal,

I am writing to ask if I can turn in the Java Assignment a few days late. It was due on 26th September, but I could not finish it on time because of an unexpected personal issue.

I have already done most of the work. If it is okay with you, I can submit the finished assignment by 5th October.

I am very sorry for the trouble and appreciate your understanding.

Best regards,

Srujana P

Section 2: Email of Update

- You are working on a group project and your team leader has asked for a status update. Write an email updating them on the progress made so far, any challenges faced, and the expected completion date.

Subject: Project Update – Srujana P

Hi Abhimanyu,

Here is a quick update on my progress for our group project.

What I have done so far:

- Finished the research on Thermal Sensor Drones.
- Started working on the Design and Demonstration.

Challenges:

- I ran into a small problem with the microbolometer sensor chip, but I am working through it now.

Next steps and completion date:

- I will finish the next part by 10th October.
- I plan to have everything completely done and ready to share with the team by 17th October.

Let me know if you have any questions or if we need to change anything!

Best,

Srujana

Section 3: Email of Scheduling

- You have a meeting scheduled with your mentor next week, but it clashes with another important commitment. Write an email requesting to reschedule the meeting to a different day or time.

Subject: Rescheduling our meeting next week

Hi Keerthana Mam,

I hope you are doing well.

I am looking forward to our meeting next week, but I just realized I have a scheduling conflict. I have another important commitment at the same time as our planned meeting, so I will not be able to make it.

Would it be possible for us to move our chat to a different day or time? I am free on:

- Option 1: Tuesday after 2 PM
- Option 2: Thursday morning

Please let me know if any of those times work for you, or if another time is better. I am very sorry for the change and appreciate your flexibility!

Best,

Srujana P
